

ENRIS 2019

European Nanofabrication Research Infrastructure Symposium

The European Nanofabrication Research Infrastructure Symposium (ENRIS) 2019 is the 2nd edition of the biannual international conference on cleanroom operation, management and user training. This edition will be organized by NanoLabNL/EuroNanoLab and hosted at the MESA+ Institute for Nanotechnology, part of the University of Twente in the Netherlands.

We look forward to two days of interesting presentations and discussions on cleanroom related topics such as cleanroom operation, management and user training. We expect approx. 150 participants involved in cleanroom management, engineering and administration from all over Europe.

Where: University of Twente, Enschede, the Netherlands

When: June 16-18, 2019

We hope to meet you at ENRIS in 2019!
